Orlando, Fla., June 5, 2007 – Litchford & Christopher Professional Association is pleased to announce the arrival of two new attorneys to the firm, Keith Rounsaville and David Beyer. Both join Litchford & Christopher's litigation practice.

Rounsaville was formerly a partner with Akerman Senterfitt and now devotes his practice to Litchford & Christopher's antitrust and trade regulation litigation clients. His broad experience includes intellectual property litigation, white-collar crime matters, class action suits, parallel proceedings and corporate advisory groups.

Don Christopher, the firm's President and one of its founding shareholders, says, "With Keith joining the firm, we are able to deepen our antitrust practice. His exceptional experience in this area enables us to better service clients who face these types of cases."

Rounsaville earned his undergraduate degree at Yale University and his J.D. at the Columbia University School of Law. He also served as a Captain in the U.S. Marine Corps and then as a certified military judge.

Beyer's focus includes civil litigation and appeals. He recently completed two-years of service as a judicial law clerk for the Florida First District Court of Appeal in Tallahassee. Born in Melbourne, Florida, Beyer received his Bachelor of Arts degree in Economics from the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill and his J.D. from the Florida State University College of Law.

"With David's outstanding educational background, he brings valuable governmental experience to our firm," says Christopher. "He adds to our growing associate ranks and increases the unique talent available to our clients."

Litchford & Christopher is a commercial litigation firm serving clients with complex legal matters. The firm, established in 1985, is an "AV-rated" firm with clients of varying sizes - from small, local businesses to national, Fortune 500 corporations - and in multiple industries.
